Description:	"The Writing Revolution provides a clear method of instruction that you can use no matter what subject or grade level you teach. TWR is as much a method of teaching content as it is a method of teaching writing. There's no separate writing block and no separate writing curriculum. Instead, teachers of all subject areas adapt TWR strategies to their current curriculum and weave them into their content instruction." The Writing Revolution, Hochman and Wexler, 2017 The approach breaks the writing process into manageable chunks and begins at teaching students how to develop strong sentences, then paragraphs and finally longer pieces of writing. The Writing Revolution website
