Target Audience:	All classroom teachers of any content area (especially Gr. 3-12), special education and Title teachers, Principals and Reading Coordinators
Description:	“The Writing Revolution provides a clear method of instruction that you can use no matter what subject or grade you teach. TWR is as much of a method of teaching content as it is a method of teaching writing. There’s no separate writing block and no separate writing curriculum. Instead, teachers of all subject areas adapt TWR strategies to their current curriculum and weave them into their content instruction.” The approach breaks the writing process into manageable chunks and begins teaching students how to develop strong sentences, then paragraphs and finally longer pieces of writing. The Writing Revolution website
